MAHER CAN SEE,

And the Fight May Come Off on Monday,

But the Texas Rangers Dog the Men at Every Step.

FITZ IS DISGUSTED.

Juarez Will Witness a Big Bull Fight on Sunday.

City Council Denounces the Texas Authorities.

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 15,-Late last evening Quinn, the backer of Maher, telephoned from Las Cruces that Peter's eves were 25 per cent better, and that he would surely be able to be in the ring Monday. In the meantime concessions have been secured for a blg bull fight in Juarez Sunday.

If Maher's eyes do not recover with sufficient rapidity to enable him to get winto the ring on next Monday, Fitzsimmons may decline to wait any tonger. Fitzsimmons is a sorely disappointed man over the turn things are taking, and is a little inclined to find fault with Maher for not taking sufficient precautions during his train-He is confident of his ability to beat Maher in two rounds, or four at the outside, and the obstacles that have been placed in his way have tended to discourage him somewhat. He rode over to El Paso this afternoon on his wheel, and, although Maher went to Las Cruces this morning, the Texas rangers at once struck Fitzsim-mons' trail to prevent him from en-gaging in a fist fight with a man forty odd miles away. The constant dog-ging of his every movement by the rangers has added another feature to the disgust which Fitzsimmons enter-tains of the general situation.

Dr. White, who has been attending Maher, said that he had grave fears as to Maher's ability to be in the ring on Monday.

"He may be able to do it," the doctor said, "but it is doubtful. It is likely to be a week and he may not come around by that time. His eyes are in very bad shape and there is no telling with any certainty when he will be able to see clearly." Governor Ahumada was on the alert to prevent any fight in his bailiwick.

He had his men out watching eagerly for any signs of men crossing the river in large numbers. Even the Mexican collector of the port at Jaurez, Manuel Bauche, one of the most genial and pleasant of men, sat this deek in the custom house with at his desk in the custom house with a tremendous big revolver on the desk before him, and in the court of the Federal building stood several horses ready for him and his employes to mount and ride to the battleground.

All Thursday night and far into the greater part of the morning, the training quarters of Fitzsimmons in Juarez were surrounded by a cordon of mounted Mexican guards. It was nearly noon before any of the inmates ventured from the house, and then Julian went to federal headquarters, in company with a friend, who brought him the information that the whole Fitzsimmons retinue was to be ordered out of Mexico. Julian thought it advisable not to wait for the order. He told Collector Bauche that he had no intention of violating Mexican law, and that if the fight was to have taken place in Mexico, all the traps of the Fitzsimmons party would have been sent out before. He told the collector that there was little chance of the fight being brought off, owing to Maher's condition, and he hoped under the circumstances his party would not fall under the ban of the State.

During the conversation Governor Ahumada called upon Collector Bauche Julian was introduced, and the gist of Julian's statement was translated to him by the collector. The governor was courteous but noncommittal, and Julian was bowed out. coming over to the theater on this side, Fitzsimmons was stopped by the Mexican officials, and again in returning. Fitzsimmons explained that he had no intention of fighting in his full dress garb and that Maher was not in condition to fight. He was held until it was found Maher was blind, and then released, but a guard was posted about the house.

The situation has worked down to a simple proposition of having the fight before the kinetoscope. It is practically Stuart's only chance to practically Stuart's only chance to win out, and the only hope that the kinetoscope people have their side of the grave for the recovery of the $17,000 they have already put into the scheme. The kinetoscope, of course, is the strongest thing in favor of the fight coming off, and an effort will certainly be made to get the men into the ring as soon as Maher is in any condition to fight. The location of the fight is still the same deep impenetrable secret. Nobody knows a penetrable secret. Nobody knows a thing about it, and only one thing is certain-it will not be in Texas. may be four miles from El Paso and it may be a hundred. Nobody save Stu-art knows the direction or the distance.

Hot resolutions were introduced and adopted at a meeting of the city council here last night. The substance of the resolutions was that the citizens of El Paso regarded the action of Gov-ernor Culberson and Adjutant General Mabry, in bringing in Texas rangers as a bid for cheap notoriety, and they considered it as such.

Oswego, Kan., Feb. 15.-The preliminary examination of Marion Asbell, accused of murdering his wife on January 28, closed yesterday afternoon, the defendant being bound over to the next term of court without bail. The examination was held in the opera house, in order to accommodate the throng which had assembled from the adjacent towns and country.

At the conclusion of the hearing, the defendant was taken through a back door by the sheriff and his attendants, and hurried to the jail, followed by several hundred men, but as there seemed to be no leader, what might have been a lynching was averted and the prisoner was lodged

When arrested he acted in a suspicious man-ner, and the officers decided to further investigate his case. He gave his name as the "Cleveland Sport," and confessed to numerous robberies; stated that he had been convicted for highway robbery at Palestine, Tex., and sentenced to the penitentiary for two years but escaped from the guards; also gave valuable information which will lead to the arrest of the men who held up a freight train on the night of January 14 at Nassau, on the Missouri Pacific in which several watches and money were taken from trainmen and Conductor Trickett was shot. Wins in the House by a Vote of 215 to 90.

The Senate Substitute Rejected by 125 Majority.

VOTERS DODGED.

Vote of the Kansas and Missouri Representatives.

Representative Talbert Stirs Up Rebellion Issues.

Washington, Feb. 15. - The majority against silver in the House yesterday when the final vote was taken on con currence in the free coinage amendment was larger than that of Thursday in committee of the whole. Thursday the motion to concur was defeated by 190 to 80, a majority of 110. Yesterday it was beaten 215 to 90, a majority of 125. The vote yesterday was a record-making vote, and counting the pairs, but thirty-seven out of 350 members were unaccounted for. Perhaps a few absentees dodged, but most of them were unavoidably absent and were unable to secure pairs. An analysis of the vote shows that 184 Republicans and thirty-one Democrats voted against concurrence, and fifty-eight Democrats, twenty-five Republicans and seven Populists for concurrence.

The debate which preceded the vote was of an interesting character, but devoid of any sensational features. The galleries, as usual on a field day in the lower branch of Congress, were crowded to the doors, and quite a number of senators, including Palmer, of Illinois, Bacon of Georgia, Cockrell of Missouri and Butler of North Carolina, sat through the five hours' delate. bate. Secretary Herbert was also Ex-Speaker Crisp presented the closing argument for the silver men, and was replied to by Mr. Turner, a Democratic colleague from Georgia, in a two hours' speech. The personal valry between the two leaders of the opposing factions of the Democratic side of the House added to the interest of the occasion. Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, closed in behalf of the Republicans. The partisans of the respective champions missed no oppor-tunity to acclaim their approval when telling points were made, and at the close honors seemed even.

The Kansas representatives voted as follows: Yeas—Baker, Broderick, Curtis. Nays: Blue, Calderhead,

Missouri: Ayes-De Armond, Dockery. Nays-Bartholdt, Burton, Clark, Cobb, Crowther, Hall, Hubbard, Joy, Tracey, Treloar, Tarsney.

A very exciting row was only prevented at the night session of the house by the good temper shown by Mr. Talbert of South Carolina, whose utterances at the night session two weeks ago caused Mr. Barrett of Massachusetts to offer a resolution to canarya him for "tracsonable and see censure him for "treasonable and se ditious" language. Last night Mr. Talbert was opposing a bill to pension a soldier's widow, who had subsequently remarried and had been divorced from her second husband, when Mr. Hardy, Republican, Indiana, arose and made a savage personal at-tack upon Mr. Talbert. South Carolina, he said, had always been raising her voice in opposition to the union. "We have heard from South Carolina," said he, "year in and 'year out, except the four years when she was out of the Union. She has caused more trouble than any State in the Union from the time when John C. Calhoun tried to nullify the statutes of the United States, in 1832, and Jackson threatened to hang him for his paius, up to the present time, when the gentleman!from South Carolina appears in this body, and a gentleman with similar propensities ap-Her record here is without a parallel. am here to vote for every pension bill presented to this house, despite South Carolina, which has not sent an honestly elected representative to Congress since 1872," Mr. Talbert was evidently suffering under great excitement while this at tack was being made, and an outbreak was expected, but he restrained him-self with difficulty and turned the attack with pleasant reference to the fact that Canada had been heard from. (Mr. Hardy was born in Canada.)

Later, however, while discussing another bill, he took occasion to remark that he had noticed that those who had taken no part in the war were loudest in their proclamations of patriotism and their denuncia tions of those who had fought against the union. Mr. Talbert himself served in the Confederate army through the war. Mr. Hardy did not serve in the Union army.

"I have noticed," concluded Mr. Talbert, "that those who are invincible in time of peace, are generally invisible in time of war." (General laughter.)

CONFIDENCE INCREASING. But the Weather Hinders Trade un Money Is Close tays Dun.

New York, Feb. 14.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

The weather still hinders business and continued closeness of money follows the prolonged inaction of Congress, but confidence increases. The demand for boots and shoes is still disappointing. Several factories have closed and few are working full time, belief in lower prices still pre-vailing, although further reductions have been made in most lines, amounting, since January, to 1 to 6 per cent.

Textile work shows little change, though the cut in print cloths to $2.75 and a general concession in brown and bleached staples, averaging for the whole list quoted six per cent since January I, induced more buying which the known accumulation of goods ahead of demand has hindered. Sales of wool have been small for two weeks of February, 9,320,760 pounds, against 10,250,550 last year and 12,502,550 in 1893, but higher prices abroad, sustained by heavy shipments of goods to this country, in-cline holders of wool here to make the concessions, so that manufacturers have the more difficulty in meeting competition.

Produce markets tend downward. mainly because supplies exceed expectations. Wheat has declind %c, with Western receipts 8,022,306 bushels, against 875,199 last year, while Atlantic exports for two weeks have been only 3,639,195 bushels, against 2,721,344 last year.

Corn is a shade lower and both pork and lard a little lower. Cotton re-ceipts, at this season never large, still indicate a supply for the current crop year, including stocks brought over, much in excess of the world's needs, so that the prospect of increased acreage has the more power to depress prices, and spot cotton has declined an eighth for the week. Exports in January were 8,653,566 less than last year, though prices were 45 per cent higher. Failures for the week have been 321 in the United States, against 270 last year, and 67 in Canada against 51 last

While Thieves Enter His House Smoke, Eat and be Merry.

Indianapolis, Feb 15 —Governor Mat-thews, chief executive of the state, is vexed to his innermost soul. Some time during the night, the mischlef not being discovered until morning, burglars en-tered his home, visited his bed chamber and abstracted a fine gold watch from his vest. They also helped themselves to $15 in his trousers pocket. All this in a bedroom lighted with a grate fire.

The burglars adjourned to the dining room, where they helped themselves bountifully to fruit on the sideboard, lighted some of the governor's cigars, as shown by the ashes and stubs scattered around, and then warmed themselves by the comfortable fire left burning for the benefit of the servants.

Latest News From the Great Gold Fields.

Cripple Creek and Victor Are Six Miles From Town Centers.

WANTED TO KNOW."

A Stranger From the Distance East" Gets Pointers.

Difference Between Tweedledee and Tweedledum.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Feb. 13.

To the Editor of the State Journal: I notice you always have space in the JOURNAL devoted to "News from Cripple Creek," and I have not yet seen a mention of the name of Victor in connection with the news of our great mines. A great many people are under the impression that the Portland Bankers' Union and Mr. Stratton's big mine, Independence, are all in the vicinity of Cripple Creek when in truth they are all very close to Victor, which is rightfully called the "City of the Mines." Here are a few lines that illustrate

Wanted to Know.

A stranger from the distant east,
Begrimed with travel stain,
Ohe day got off at Cripple town,
From an early morning train.
A near hotel he quickly sought,
His hunger to aliay.
And after breakfast caught the clerk,
And talked to him this way:
"For weeks and months I've read about
The Independence mine,
The wonder of its treasure vauits—
The waits with gold that shine,
I'm curious now to view it,
And think I'll take a stroll;
Now, what direction shall I take
To reach that mineral hole?"
The sad eyed clerk with pitying glance
Repressed a rising tear.
And answered with a faltering voice:
"Its six miles east of here.
Just take the next suburban
That goes to Victor—see?
And you'll find the Independence
In that locality."
The stranger disappointed,
Was silect quite a while
But broke the stillness painful
With conundrums of this style:
"Well, what about the Portland?
That's hereabouts. I s'spose?
One of your famous Cripple mines
As everybody knows;
I'll take a waik and look at that,"
While I've noithing else to do."
But the clerk just faintly murmured:
"The stranger paused a moment,
Then gave it to him raw— Wanted to Know.

the situation:

"That mine's at, Victor, too."
The stranger paused a moment,
Then gave it to him raw—
"Well where's your Battle mountain,
And the hill entitled Squaw?"
The clerk turned paie and gasped for breath,
Keeled over on the floor,
And the subsequent proceedings
Interested him no more.
The stranger grabbed his grip sack
And hastened to the train—
The chances are he il not be caught

WAS ONCE A CITY. Now the Townsite of Cross Will Be Used As a Cemetery.

WICHITA, Feb. 15, - A special from Ponca City, O. T, says that the city council has bought the townsite of Cross for a city cemetry. This is the novel ending of one of the most interesting rival townsite fights of the west. When the Checkee Strip was opened to settlement in 1892, two rival cities— Ponca City and Cross-sprang up within a mile of each other.

The latter opened up the first day of its existence with a population of 3,000 and the former with a population of 2,000. It was war to the knife between them from the start, and at a public meeting at Ponca City one night the mayor uttered these prophetic words; "Gentlemen this is a fight to the finish. If you people give me your sup-port, I will carry on the fight until Cross is a cemetery."

A strong delegation was sent to Washwho succeeded in having Ponca City recognized as the legitimate townsite. This was eight months ago, and Cross gave up the fight and moved to Ponca City. ington, with Captain Stiles at its head, Miss Bethmann was born in Boston and is of German extraction. She was edu-cated in the public schools of Boston, and after graduating from the Girls' High school took a special course of training at private schools, including a special course on kindergarten work under the noted kindergartner Miss Lucy H. As she is directly in charge of Miss Bethmann, her words bear weight. She said: "Miss Bethmann has gone to Washing-ton and will Instruct Ruth and Esther, the president's children. ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVE BUILT.

Will Pull a Freight Train Either Forty or Eighty Miles an Hour.

The Baldwin Locomotive works of Philadelphia have shipped to the Westing-house Electric works in Alleghany the first electric locomotive ever built for a steam railroad. The Baldwin works made every-thing about this unique engine but the electric mechanism, which will be supplied by the Westinghouse company. The locomotive is the size of an ordinary box car, being 80 feet long and mounted upon two four wheel trucks. Completed it will weigh 60 tons. It is geared for 800 horsepower, which will pull a loaded freight train 40 miles an hour. By a single change of the gearing this engine can be run up to 1,600 horsepower and can pull a train 80 miles an hour.

This locomotive is intended for freight. The passenger engines will attain a far higher speed. The wheels are 42 inches in diameter. Only a space eight feet square is nyeded in the locomotive for the electric motor. One man will operate the locomotive by means of a controller similar to that on a common trolley car, only much larger and stronger. The locomotive is built to be operated by either overhead or underground trolley wire.

It carries no coal, firebox, smokestack or water tank. In front is a powerful electric searchlight for use at night to light the track. The cost of the new electric locomotive is about equal to that of a steam locomotive, or $10,000.—Chicago Times-

THE NEW EMBASSADOR.

He Is a Trained Diplomat From a Good

Whether it is becoming to the dignity of a great nation to require that allowances shall continually be made for its representatives as mere amateurs to diplomacy is a question. But that question does not arise in the case of Mr. Uhl.

There could be no better preparation for a foreign mission in the space of three years than to pass that time in the state department, for there is really a continuons tradition in that department which is not broken by changes of administration, and which enables an American who has been brought into contact with it to understand those relations with all the great powers which are requisite in our representative accredited to any one of them.

Mr. Uhl has had the advantage of learning, as few of our foreign ministers have been able to learn, what these relations are. Indeed, considering the facility of communication and the certainty that a discreet representative will, in any important matter, wait for instructions, it may be doubted whether his exceptional quali fications would not be of more value to the country in Washington than in Berlin. -New York Times.

EDISON'S FIRST PHONOGRAPH.

One Famous Invention Now In an Atlanta Lumber Room

Stored away among the rubbish of a ginger ale factory in Atlanta is the first phonograph constructed by Thomas A. Edison, away back in 1875. At the Philadelphia exposition, 20 years ago, it attracted the attention of almost the entire world and was justly regarded as one of the greatest inventions of the age.
At the close of the exposition it was purchased by Mr. J. J. Sprenger, who, under General Grant's administration, was attached to the United States consulate at Vienna, and later to the consulate at Rome. The machine, after exhibition in several of the largest cities of this country, was taken to Europe and found a place at the French exposition, in 1878. Sprenger charged a small fee for a few minutes tertainment and realized some 70,000 francs from his speculation. He then took it to Germany but, from a financial point of view, the exhibition there was not a success. The voice of the old machine is stilled forever, and it is slowly crumbling to pieces.
